

PRESENT REAL CONDITIONALS

Use:
simple present
present continuous
present perfect
continuous

Use: an imperative
in the main clause

Use:
modal verbs
(not 'would')

GENERAL TRUTHS (ZERO CONDITIONAL)

If you add two and two, you get four.

PRESENT HABITS

If my husband cooks dinner, I clean up.
If I'm travelling, I call my children every day.

SPECIFIC PRESENT SITUATIONS

If it's raining outside now, we can call a cab.
If she's at home, she'll be working.

Use a modal in the main clause of specific present situations - 'will' to make a guess about the present is very common.
